An Unforgettable Camping

Last Sunday, I went camping with my family. We went to Sai Kung.

First, we put two tents, food and drinks into our rucksacks. The bags were heavy. We went to the bus stop at half-past two in the afternoon. We felt excited. Next, we arrived at the campsite. We put up the tents together. It was tiring. We saw mountains, trees, grass and a river.

At night, Mum and Dad cooked noodles for dinner. They smelt tasty. My brother and I set the table. I felt happy. Then, we ate the food. Suddenly, it rained. I got wet. Finally, we wrapped the food. We could not finish the food, so we brought it home. We were hungry.

I felt disappointed as I did not enjoy the camping.
